TEROUZ is the guise of Cairo born Illustrator/singer songwriter Karim Terouz, who moved to Montreal in 2008.

Before transforming his band into an electro-rock act, Karim fronted and managed his award winning, brassy, folk/rock quintet "The Rising Few". He released his first album Sinners On St-Laurent in 2014 followed by his second "Adult Entertainment" in 2017.

In 2018, Karim re-invents his music by incorporating dancehall beats and synths into his 80s/90s alternative roots. Terouz started playfully utilising his signature "Bowie-esque" vocals to re-emerge as a refreshingly unique variation of hypnotic, Alternative-Noir.

The vocal swagger in the frontman's first single "Outstanding" is complemented by muscular, groovy bass lines and nostalgic, "Knofler-like" guitar fills played by guitarist André Galamba. "It like Cinematic Storytelling...on a treadmill!" Describes the Egyptian/Canadian frontman.
